About Aniello Enterprises Media

Aniello Enterprises Media is the visual arm of the Aniello Enterprises Media Network — animated series and features, produced in-house and published at media.aniello.net. The site launched Sunday, November 1, 2026, and every series prepared for distribution lives there. The network also publishes six podcasts and two newsletters, and a media sponsorship can span all three arms of the house.

Now Showing: Bronx Bomber Heart

An anime mini-series in eight episodes, built from a father-and-son photograph at Yankee Stadium. Tommy Manganiello catches a foul ball blazing with golden energy — and the light answers a scar his dad has carried for thirty years. New episodes daily at 11:00 AM ET; the finale arrives Friday, November 6, 2026. Each episode is published with its own original art and story caption on the series page.

In Development

- AI Wars — a dramatic cartoon series that personifies the great AI models and software: they agree, they cooperate — and then they go to war. (Working title.)
- Pet Animations — short animated vignettes built from family pet photos and the happenings of the day.
- Rainbow Bridge Memorials — animated memorials for pets who have crossed the Rainbow Bridge, with an annual gift-from-the-beyond chapter for each pet.

Sponsorship Opportunities

- Series Sponsor — your name and message on a series page and in every episode announcement for the season.

- Episode Sponsor — sponsorship of a single episode, named on the episode's place in the series and in its announcement.
- Site Sponsor — placement on media.aniello.net alongside the series shelves.
- Founding Sponsor (Coming Series) — first-position sponsorship of a series in development, held from its premiere.
- Network Sponsorship — a sponsorship spanning media, podcasts, and newsletters across the Aniello Enterprises Media Network.

Distribution

Series publish at media.aniello.net, free to watch, with episode alerts to email subscribers and cross-promotion on podcasts.aniello.net and newsletters.aniello.net. Sponsors receive the audience figures for their placements on request, drawn from the network's own first-party metrics.
